Introduction of Envelopes.

The late Henry L. Lipman of Philadelphia gives this interesting statement regarding the early use of envelopes in this country: "About 1842 unglued envelopes made their first appearance as a new importation from France, and I was the first to begin their manufacture in this country. Shortly afterward I improved them by adding gum to the flaps, and the gummed envelopes I made were the first which had been seen anywhere, and the first envelope of any kind used by the United States government were made by me. The demand at first was very small. Envelopes were as difficult to introduce as any new invention or improvement is at the present time, and they were considered only as a temporary fad which would soon go out of fashion again. That is the reason I did not patent or push them very hard, especially as I had a good trade in seals and sealing wax and feared that envelopes would interfere with them. At first they were only used for business purposes, and it was some time before they were employed in social correspondence, as a person was considered lacking in respect to a friend when he had to lick the gum on the envelope sent him. I also made the first envelope known in the United States, and when postage stamps were introduced the contractor had to come to me to learn how the gum was made, and I gave him the information gratis."

He Could Not Bear the Drop.

"I have an amusing experiment," said Henry Waller of Omaha. "Some one stated that no man could stand a quart of water dropped on to his hand, drop by drop, from a height of two or three feet. A bystander bet $20 to $1 that he could, and the wager was accepted. In less than a minute there was a blister on the man's hand and in less than three minutes his face gave evidence of intense suffering. Before a pint had been dropped he gave up exhausted and described the sensation as the most terrible one he had ever experienced. The man who pocketed the $20 failed to give odds of 10 to 1 that the man could stand a pint of water dropped on his hand drop by drop. When he could stand no longer, he volunteered the statement that no one could have gone through the ordeal and retain his reason, as nothing present seemed likely to induce him to contract another such a dangerous experiment."

Children Cry for Pitchers' Castor Oil.

Miss Kate Field relates an experience which she had in trying to sleep in a hotel in a Utah mining town where the partitions between the rooms were of boards merely and quite innocent of lath and plaster. The ordinary going and coming of the early part of the night were bad enough, but toward morning, when at last she had fallen asleep, a loud voice shouted from her keyhole: "Smith! Smith!"As her name was not Smith, she made no response."Smith!" came the shout again. "It's time to ship!""My name is not Smith," she then answered.From across the hall came the call of the day clerk, who occupied the room there: "No. That ain't Smith. Smith's at the end of the hall.""Well, this is the end of the hall," came from the neighborhood of the keyhole again. It was the voice of the porter."Aren't there two ends to the hall? It's the other end, you blockhead.""Who wants Sm'm?" came a sharp voice from the distance. "I'm Smith.""What's the matter? I'm Smith," came still another voice."Well, whichever Smith wants to get up at 4 o'clock, he's the one," growled the porter.Both these Smiths slammed their doors with a vehement protestation that they didn't want to get up."It's Smith in No. 1!" screamed the day clerk.The right Smith had not been waked at all, so the porter found No. 1 and pounded on the door so hard that everybody in the house who had not already been waked was aroused, and several people rushed out into the hall, thinking there was a fire.The porter went down complacently to the office on the floor below."Well," said he to the night clerk, "Around the earth, in every land,By every stream that I'm aware of,In every town, they understandHow teeth may best be taken care ofFrom Jersey flats to Birmah's mountThey sing the praise of SOZODONT.

THE GREAT COAL STRIKE.

Nearly 100,000 Miners on a Strike in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARMY.

John W. Mackay Wins His Suit for $100,000.

A GREAT STRIKE.

Seventy Thousand Coal Miners on a Strike in the East—More Likely to Follow.

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—All miners in the Clear Field district of the bituminous coal regions are on a strike. There will be 20,000 men out in that territory, added to these are 7,000 in Phillipsburg district, 4,000 in Indiana district, 5,000 in Kefferson district, 8,000 in Mountain district, 500 in Black county, 600 in Cambria county, 7,100 at Pittsburgh, 200 at Rulon and 13,000 at Clearfield, making a total of 65,400 coal miners who struck to-day in Pennsylvania.

In the Connellsburg region 17,000 more men are expected to be out Monday.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21.—Reports today at the National headquarters of the Miners' Union, are to the effect that in the Black coal fields of Indiana, where the men have a contract, they will work two days a week until May 1st when they will join the suspension. The Maryland has joined in the suspension. On New and Kanawha rivers there is every indication of a general suspension. It is an open secret that the operators in this region are in sympathy with the strike and hope that the miners will win. Seven hundred men are out at New Straitsville. All miners in Sunday Creek valley are out, about 1,500.

At Jackson 4,000 men struck. At Pomeroy miners in 22 mines struck. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 21.—Fifteen hundred coal miners in this district struck to-day.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARMY IN IOWA.

What the General Manager of a Railroad Says of Its Personnel.

DES MOINES, April 21.—General Manager St. John of the Rock Island & Pacific Railroad does not think the people have anything to fear from the Commonwealth Army while it is passing through the country. He said: "It is made up of sober, intelligent, determined men, nine-tenths of whom are American born. They are respectable, honest and remarkably well organized. There are no bums among them. If they have a few more days of such treatment as they had during the last few days, it is terrible to think what may happen. You can't tell what men will do when hungry and hunted down. This gathering is like a whirlwind. It is very similar to the French revolution. It is a terrible thing, and makes me sad to find 1,600 respectable, well-meaning men reduced to such desperate straits in this country. We expect these things in the old countries, but it is not part of the program of this Republic. It makes us feel that something is wrong with the Government."

Mr. St. John spoke highly of General Kelley, pronouncing him a man of character and a thorough Christian capable of managing the army. He thought that fully 100,000 men would assemble at Washington.

MACKAY WINS.

A Suit for $100,000 Decided in His Favor.

NEW YORK, April 21.—In the suit of John Anderson, an ex-member of the Produce Exchange, who brought action against John W. Mackay in the United States Circuit Court before Judge Shipman for $100,000 for services as manager of the Commercial Telegram Company and his interest in the stock of the company, the jury rendered a verdict to-day in favor of Mr. Mackay. Mr. Anderson, it was alleged, entered into a contract in 1885 with Edward Stokes, who was then the owner of the Commercial Telegram Company, by which he was to receive a salary as manager and one-fourth of the company's stock. On January 1, 1889, Stokes sold the stock to Mackay, and one of the considerations of the purchase, it was alleged, was that Mackay was to assume all liability for the contract entered into between Anderson and Stokes. Mackay testified that he merely said to Anderson that he would do whatever was just and right in the matter when he inquired into it.

PROHIBITION OR NOT.

That What Is Fuziling South Carolinians.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 21.—Every dispensary in the State was closed to-day by order of the State Board of Control. The liquor on hand cannot be disposed of except by authority of the Legislature, and it is likely that an extra session will be called at an early day, there being considerable doubt as to whether the decision of the Supreme Court really provided for prohibition. It is probable that the State will get up some sort of test case and get an explicit declaration from the Court on this point, and in case it is definitely decided that prohibition is a law it is likely the Legislature will provide for a small army of constables to see that the law is enforced.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Bar silver, 63; lead, 320.

The case of Lieutenant Maney went to the jury yesterday. It is believed the verdict will be manslaughter.

The weekly bank statement shows a reserve increase of $1,177,000; loan increase of $2,130,000; specie decrease of $1,179,000. The New York banks now hold $82,010,000 in excess of legal requirements.

Admiral De Mello yesterday issued a proclamation at Buenos Ayres declaring that the insurgent territorial army did not support the insurgent squadron and that he relinquished the contest in consequence of the absolute lack of means.

A series of terrible earthquakes destroyed many lives and much property in Greece yesterday and day before. Six towns are in ruins. At Thebes five hundred houses fell. The city is panic stricken. A large stone fell from the famous gate of Hadrian.

Another delegation of workingmen numbering six hundred left Philadelphia yesterday to petition Congress in person not to pass the Wilson bill. On arriving at Washington they were joined by the other delegation which went the day before. A committee was appointed to wait on Senators Voorhees, Bristow, Smith and Hill, but in each case the Senators were "not at home."

The Deputy United States District Attorney has received from L. Goodin, Postmaster at Mohave, a card of a registered letter and note supposed to have been dropped by William Wooton on March 14th. The note reads as follows: "Postmaster—Please register the enclosed, as I am not able to stop to attend to it. Yours truly, William Wooton." The letter was addressed to Prof. W. A. Sanders, Reedley, California.

WILLIAM PINNIGER, Druggist.

Practicing Economy a Science.

To practically economize is a study that demands time and labor. In every household beauty and comfort is the desire of the family. Especially does the good housewife make it a duty to make her home as attractive as possible.

To accomplish this purpose heavy expenses are often entailed, but such can be averted by just calling at Enrich's and examining his well selected stock of dry goods and carpets.

In the line of carpets he begs to call particular attention to his Kidderminster and Knickerbocker and celebrated Axra three-ply carpets, which, for excellency of quality, richness and beauty of pattern and design are unsurpassed. They are positively surprised goods and are sold at prices to compare equally with any San Francisco house. Window shades, lace curtains, Persian and Swiss draperies, are in abundance to select from. In regard to dress goods, woolen and wash fabrics, the stock is entirely new and will doubtless please the beholder as to prices, quality and beauty. In fact there is a large supply of Brabant and Bourdeaux. Inserting and edging in black, white, cream and butter color and many other articles for trimming. Every line is complete, and all Mr. Enrich asks of his generous patrons and the public in general, is to devote a few moments for inspection of his establishment.

Happy Harry, the Swedish Nightingale and Lieutenant Berriman Here Once More.

The Salvation Army last evening attracted a crowd of about five hundred people on Commercial Row to listen to Happy Harry and the singing of the Swedish Nightingale and Lieutenant Berriman. The Salvation Army was also out in full force, numbering about twenty-five.

Happy Harry is a whole host in himself as a Salvation Army leader and does not allow the singing and exhortations to drag for lack of enthusiasm. The singing of Lieutenant Berriman seemed to charm the listeners more even than that of the Swedish Nightingale, for whom by many she was taken. Her voice is exceedingly sweet and she sings with an earnestness that reaches the heart of every listener.

"For Years,"

Says CARRIE E. STOCKWELL, of Chesterfield, N. H., "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort even to whisper. Then came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving as suddenly; but, for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced. At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."

AYER'S PILLS.

on Scott's Emulsion, because fat foods make fat children. They are thin, and remain thin just in proportion to their inability to assimilate food rich in fat.

A WHEEL AROUND THE HUB.
A Party of Reno Bicyclists Make a Good Record.

Yesterday morning at 5:22 a party of seven Reno bicyclists left here on their wheels for Virginia City for the purpose of making a record for the triangular trip from Reno to Virginia and return by way of Carson.

The party was composed of Professors Wilson, Lewers, Miller, Hillman and Church and Mr. Stadtmuller of the University and Mr. Arthur Beebe.

On arriving at the foot of the grade they met Dr. Fredrick, who had started from here about half an hour before them on his way to Virginia City.

Following is the time made between the different points:

Reno to Virginia City, four hours and five minutes;—distance 22 miles—eight miles of which up the Geiger grade had to be walked.

A halt was made of about two hours in Virginia City when the wheelmen started for Carson, distance 16 miles, at which place they arrived in two hours over a very rough road.

Here a stop was made from 1:30 until 3 o'clock when the last stretch of 30 miles was undertaken.

Prof. Miller remained at Carson until the night train and Prof. Hillman stopped off at Ross Lewers' ranch, returning from Franktown on the evening train.

The party arrived in Reno as follows: Professors Wilson and Lewers at 7:30 o'clock, Professor Church at 7:45 and Messrs. Beebe and Stadtmuller about 8 o'clock.

The round trip is not far from 70 miles, and is equivalent to about 100 miles on a good road.

Between Lakeview and Washoe City the wheelmen, instead of taking the wagon road came down on the railroad track, which proved to be a very good bicycle road with the exception that the riders had to dismount and carry their wheels over every culvert. From Washoe City to Reno the time was one hour and twenty minutes.

A party of ladies and gentlemen left here yesterday afternoon on their wheels to meet the first party at Steamboat on their return. It was composed of Mr. C. T. Bender, Mrs. R. C. Moore, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Beebe and Miss Mabel Stanaway. They arrived at Steamboat about 6 o'clock and returned last evening about two hours later.

BOB AND THE OLD MAN.

How Colonel Breckenridge and His Son Played Tit for Tat.

Colonel W. C. Breckenridge has a son who is a terror when it comes to "roar and ungodly glee," and who is so full of State pride that he kept full of Kentucky's crimson product. His name is Bob, and everywhere he bobbed up he was full of bug juice and deviltry. He was a source of trouble to his saintly father, whose righteous soul was sorely tried by the recklessness of this wild offshoot of the noble house of Breckenridge. Some months since the youngster was guilty of an unusually violent and prolonged spree at Lexington. His distinguished father sent an older brother, Desha, a telegram saying: "Put Bob in jail and keep him there until I return." The boy's conduct had so shocked his father, who was at that time acting as Miss Pollard's "guardian," that the latter determined to send him abroad. On the day the young scamp was to go aboard a Pacific steamer at San Francisco he read the newspaper report of the Pollard scandal. Robert was in his turn shocked and telegraphed his brother Desha: "Put the old man in jail and keep him there until I return three years hence." This evidence of filial regard in the young man is very touching.—Chattanooga Press.

MARRIAGE BELLS.

A Young Italian Couple Happy.

At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Pedricini, Antonio Tortorollo and Miss Dorotea Pedricini were united in the bonds of matrimony by Justice J. J. Linn. After the marriage ceremony the guests were invited to partake of an elegant wedding dinner. The table was loaded with palatable viands which were prepared by Mrs. C. H. Wright. The bride received many valuable and beautiful presents.

The following are a few of the many guests who were present: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Becker, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. D. Dickay, Mrs. Peek, John Ducker, Frank Pedricini, Peter Pedricini, F. Vigolotto and wife, and others too numerous to mention.

Italian customs were observed. The bride and groom distributed candies among the guests and immediately after the ceremony the bride's parents visited the residence of the groom and then returned to their own home, where the festivities were held and the guests entertained until a late hour.

MUMMIES IN CAVES.

Supposed to Have Been Earlier Than the Cliff Dwellers.
(Ogden Press.)

That Utah is a prolific field for the antiquarian is well known and is becoming more so as every succeeding year brings to light something that shows the scientists there is much that should yet be investigated. In this connection it may be stated that an exhibit of some mummies recently found in caves between Elk and Blue mountains at the head of the Comb Wash, which empties into the San Juan river ten miles below Bluff City, was opened up in Salt Lake City a few days ago.

In the collection, which is evidently no "fake," there are seven mummies, all very well preserved. One is a giant, one a chief, two are women and two are boys. At first many have thought they were cliff dwellers, but as they were found underneath the ruins of the cliff dwellers' habitations, and have reddish hair instead of black, and have not the flatness on the back of their heads, besides possessing Caucasian skulls, it seems evident that they belonged to some race antedating the cliff dwellers that lived in caves. The bodies were all cramped up in constrained positions, covered with a very curious matting or blanket of wool and feathers, then packed around with cedar bark and covered with earth. They were found in various positions. With them were found the evidences of the existence of hundreds of turkeys, and by the side of one of them was a well preserved specimen of a mouse. So well preserved were the bodies that it could be told that the boy had met a violent death, the mustache is still on the face of the chief and the course of a vein can be seen on an arm of a woman.
